Delay in granting permission/ NOC also leads to inconvenience for the applicant employees.

1. The employee shall not neglect his/ her official duties/ responsibilities for appearing in any examination or for applying for any job.
2. The employee must take prior permission of Competent Authority for leave and Headquarters leaving permission, wherever required, for appearing in any recruitment examination/ job interview by producing admit card or equivalent documents.
3. The Standing Permission/ NOC shall not be construed as permission of Department to relieve the employee from its administrative control. In case, the employee is selected for the job applied for, he/ she must seek approval of this Department through proper channel, to be relieved from his/ her current service. Notwithstanding anything contained in this order, in public interest or for any other justifiable reason, the Department reserves the right to refuse to relieve the employee from his/ her current service.

This Standing Order shall henceforth be treated as the Standing Permission/ NOC issued by GA & PG Department in favour of all officers/ employees working under its administrative control, which can be produced by the officer/ employee concerned to various recruitment organisations/ future employers when necessary.

No individual permission/ NOC shall henceforth be required to be issued by this Department/ Heads of Department under the administrative control of this Department nor any such application for issue of permission/ NOC shall henceforth be entertained by this Department.
